Club Nickname: The Braidmen

Pitch Size: 109 x 70 yards

Year Ground Opened: 1903

Ground Guide

The Showgrounds first saw football in 1903 and is regarded as one of the finest sports facilities in Northern Ireland. The main entrance is at the end of Warden Street is the impressive new Warden Street stand.

This single seated 2,500 cantilever structure, cost £3m to build and is split jointly between home and away fans. It replaced the 23 year old concrete structure in the same location, known as the Clock Stand, which it replaced in 2009.

Northern Ireland Football League

The Showgrounds is surrounded by a wide oval tarmac running track, adjoining the stand is a control tower which replaced a low covered terrace a few years ago. Looking to the far left and right behind both goals there is currently no spectator facilities, although a panoramic view is offered of the countryside of County Antrim, plus a good number of floodlit training pitches in the foreground.

Looking directly across the pitch centre line the Main Stand takes pride of place with its modern seating deck of 1,836 sky blue plastic seats beneath a high cantilever roof. The stand also has executive facilities at the rear and doubles up as a community facility during weekdays. Although the lowest seats in this stand start at pitch level there is no fencing in front of the stand to obstruct the view the modern corner floodlights, which stand far apart because of the size of the running track, they also plays host to stock car racing plus local feasts.

Away fans enter the ground at the main Warden Street turnstile block and are allocated a section of the new Warden Street Stand. The stand offers one of the best facilities in the country, with an excellent unobstructed view of the pitch.

Year Ground Opened: 1889 (Barn FC)

Club Nickname: The Gers

Ground Guide

Taylors Avenue has a capacity of 6,000 and was first opened in 1889 and was the home of Barn Fc till 1928. The stand number of seats for around 400 however the roof line does not extend to cover the flat standing paddock in front of the stand.

The main entrance /exit gates and turnstiles can also be found on this side. Entering through the turnstiles spectators arrive behind the goal on a flat expanse of concrete. Looking to the left a flat expanse of concrete leads to a fenced off area-this is the site of the former Social Club, which was destroyed in a fire at the end of 2010.

Looking to the far end of the ground, with the tall spire of Carrickfergus church in the background is a low covered terrace which is given to away fans. A cosmetic change was made at the ground a couple of years ago, resulting in the external walls of both the main stand, and indeed the rear wall of the Taylors Avenue terrace being painted black to compliment the club's Amber and black home colours. The ground at present is complimented by 4 floodlight poles on the Main Stand and former social club sides.

Driving to the Ground

It's a 27 minute drive from Larne Harbour take the A8 out of the town then follow the A2 towards Carrickfergus and go through the centre of the town and about half a mile before the castle in the distance on your left you will see the ground, turn right into Taylors Avenue and follow the road bridge over the railway line and the ground is directly in front of you.

From Dublin Ferry port take the Tolka Road and Promenade Road and join the M50 then follow the M1 to Belfast then join the M2 and then take the M5 to Whiteabbey then take the Shore Road past Carrickfergus Castle and you will see the ground on the left take a left into Taylors Avenue crossing over the Railway bridge and parking is around the ground

Cliftonville

Ground - Solitude Ground, Cliftonville Street, Belfast, BT14 6LP

Capacity: 8,000 (approx. 3,000 seats)

Main Tel No: 028 3832 6815

Fax No: 028 3844 1583

Pitch Size: 135 x 72 yards

Year Ground Opened: 1890

Ground Guide

The ground is hidden amongst the residential area of Cliftonville, which is two miles north of Belfast City Centre. The main entrance and turnstiles are located at the rear of the red bricked Main Stand, which lies at the end of three Victorian terrace streets, Cliftonville Drive, Cliftonville Parade and Cliftonville Street.

The ground has undergone a transformation in the last few years. The Main Stand on the south side dominates the ground, a steep seated tier of 1,000 seats gives a good view of the pitch, however there are a couple of columns and floodlight poles which may impede your view.

Northern Ireland Football League

To the front of this stand is a narrow standing area in front of the stand with a limited amount of shelter and to the right of the Main Stand, in the south south-east corner is the two storey social club with its sheltered viewing balcony, with the players and official dressing rooms directly beneath and it is a unusual feature of the ground.

The East side of the ground was, until recently, occupied by an old fashioned terrace, however the stand was demolished in late 2007 to make way for the new stand and the new structure, opened for home fans in 2008, has around 1,200 red plastic seats with the control box at the rear of the northern end, and a low enclosure for disabled supporters to one side of the goal line and every seat in the stand offers an excellent unobstructed view of the pitch.

Across the pitch from the Main Stand there is currently a shallow grass verge on the North side of the ground, which was originally a covered terrace until a fire closed this side of the ground.

The new away supporters stand on the west side of the ground. This 800 seat stand with its modern cantilever roof is much lower than the covered terrace and main stand, giving Solitude a slightly unbalanced look. The Club installed a new 3G artificial pitch for the 2010/11 season.

Ground Guide

The Showgrounds sits next to the Coleraine's Railway and Bus Interchange. And the main stand runs alongside Ballycastle Road and dominates the ground. Inside the ground, the Main Stand has a high cantilever roof with exposed steelwork above a shallow concrete seating deck with 1,400 dark blue plastic seats, and a row of executive boxes at the rear.

To the right from the stadium control box the social club building with its second floor viewing lounge fills in the remaining space to the corner flag. Behind the goal at both ends is a 'U' shaped terrace with a covered central section along the length of the penalty area.

The Railway end is allocated for home supporters whereas the Ballycastle Road end is allocated for visitors. Both terrace covers have columns and fencing which may impede your view.

Northern Ireland Football League

Across the pitch from the main stand there is a full length terrace, which originally had a roof. Since the terrace steps are much deeper than those behind the goals the view offered from the rear steps allows the spectator to see the whole ground from over the top of the fencing. The stadium has a set of four tall floodlights that were installed in 2009.

Ground Guide

Seaview is located two miles north of centre of Belfast located between the A2 Shore Road and the Belfast to Larne railway line. The stadium has seen some recent investment with new stands being constructed at each end and the St Vincents Street Terrace being made all seated.

The ground's mural that graces the corner of St Vincent Street as well as the all seated stand that takes up the space between the Shore Road touchline and the centre line. There are a number of columns which could impede your view but there is always good atmosphere going within the ground. The capacity of this stand is 1,100. Looking towards the Railway End, the club's two storey social club building and dressing rooms take up the space to the far touchline and opposite is the Main Stand, which sits on the centre line on by far the narrowest of the four sides of the ground.

The steep concrete based cantilever stand, built in the late 1970's was re-fitted in 2010 with new red seats. Both behind goal ends are virtually identical small all seated covered stands

Ground Guide

Stangmore Park is located beside the A29, one mile south of the town with Moy Road at the West end of the ground reserved for the away fans, to the right on the pitch centre line is the Main Stand, which has a modern cantilever roof and a concrete deck of 300 blue plastic tip up seats raised above dug outs.

To the side of the stand is a wide expanse of flat terracing, which steps up at the rear to provide a slightly elevated view. Looking directly ahead to behind the goal is the home (east) end which has a low cover almost the width of the pitch. This stand, which has shallow steps at the rear, was converted to seating and although it has doubled the grounds seating capacity and the stand also has a number of columns which may impede your view.

Looking back to the left from the away stand, the North side of the ground is very narrow and is hemmed in by a housing estate. Despite this a low cover with thin supporting posts runs the full length of the pitch and currently being the only ground outside of Belfast with spectator cover on all four sides.

Ground Guide

The park is located in a residential area, but is around one mile south of the town centre. Spectators enter the ground through the new entrance turnstiles and gates in Mourneview Avenue this leads to a car park and the rear of the main stand which has a seating deck of 1,300 seats on a concrete base raised two metres above pitch level. Every seat in this stand has an excellent view of the playing action, and though the stand does have a number of columns they not impede the view. To the right of the Main Stand, behind the goal is a covered terrace for home supporters which has been converted to seating, and the seats start on the forth row of the former terrace, this is to allow spectators to see over the wall whilst allowing access to facilities at the far corner of the ground.

Northern Ireland Football League

The three stands at present are all finished with the same deep blue roof panels and have a similar height, the Away supporters have their own turnstile block directly in front of the social club building at one end of Mourneview Avenue and in the current absence of an end terrace.

Across from the main stand is a new all seated stand which replaced a low covered terrace and the pitch length stand, currently used by away supporters, has 2,000 seats on a slightly raised concrete base, and a cantilever roof which offers an unrestricted view of the pitch.

Main Telephone No: 028 9045 6137

Fax No: 028 9073 2956

Pitch Size: 112 x 72 yards

Team Nickname: The Glens

Ground Opened: 1892

Ground Guide

The Oval is a football stadium in Belfast, Northern Ireland, which has been home to Glentoran F.C. since 1892. It was given to Glentoran by the Lord Mayor of Belfast. The Oval was bombed during the Belfast blitz of World War II, and was out of use until 1949 when it was rebuilt with assistance from Cliftonville and Distillery and it had a new stand built in 2000 but its capacity is currently restricted to 5,056 and has occasionally hosted the final of the Irish Cup as well as hosting the final of the County Antrim Shield and the Setanta Cup.

The ground is located near to the Port of Belfast, and Harland and Wolff's Samson and Goliath cranes are visible from inside the stadium and it is viewed as a historic ground by football fans because of its concrete terraces and steel fencing but This limits its capacity in UEFA-sanctioned matches to the 3,000 seats in the two main stands as terracing has not been permitted in UEFA matches since 1998.

Home fans enter the ground through a gateway at the end of Parkside Drive and the car park leads onto the rear of the Main Stand with its club shop, club offices and players dressing rooms on the ground floor.

Northern Ireland Football League

The main stand from pitch side, this tall but narrow stand dominates the ground which sits to the left of the pitch towards the curved West Terracing, with the main stand originally had a small paddock area which was converted to seats to form a family area, with a low lightweight roof. Above it, raised a couple of metres above pitch level is the steep upper tier seating deck, complete with 2,720 seats. The view from these seats is spectacular, not just of the pitch but the dockyards and Harland and Wolfe shipyard cranes in the foreground and Cave Hill.

The East Terrace is the home terrace offers an unrestricted, if a little bit exposed view of the whole ground. There is no athletics track as the name may suggest so the terracing is not far removed from the action but there is however a tall pitch side fence around three sides of the ground.

Northern Ireland Football League

On the opposite side of the pitch from the Main Stand there is a covered terrace which backs onto the railway line. This stand, which sits on the pitch centre line, has been converted to seating for 2,000 spectators and there are a number of columns at the front of the stand which may impede your view and the West Terrace end of the ground mirrors the dimensions and shape of the East Terrace. Because of its location, history and layout The Oval is regarded as something of old fashioned classic ground by ground hoppers from outside Northern Ireland.

Take a first left turn into Mersey Street. The main entrance is at the end of Parkside Drive, on the left hand side which is second on the left after Mersey Road School building.

There is a car park at the ground, at the rear of the main stand though as there is only one entrance and exit gate getting away after a game is time consuming just like it was in the old days at Stevenage Borough

Public Transport

Northern Ireland Football League

I like this ground, it's like an old Rugby Park in Kilmarnock before it was modernised there are two stations in Belfast you can get to the ground. The first is Bridge Street Railway Station; you go over the footbridge, walk through the subway and turn left. This will take you into Ballymacarett Road, after about 200 yards you will see crossroads, take a left turn into Dee Street, follow Dee Street as it turns to the right and just as you see the road go up hill towards the railway bridge, take a turn to the right into Mersey Street. The ground main entrance is a further 200yards walk at the end of Parkgate Drive.

The other station is Sydenham Railway Station it's a 20 minutes walk, from the booking hall walk into Inverary Drive then straight on into Station Road follow the road to its end, turn right into Hollywood Road, and take a right turn into Park Avenue, then left into Connisbrook Avenue, and right into Mersey Street. Ground Guide

The ground was named after the area of Belfast of where the ground was built in 1905 Lingfield FC who had been formed in 1880 as Lingfield Athletic and had played at the Meadow, Ulsterville Avenue and Myrtlefield Park in the Balmoral area of Belfast.

The club just now are using only the main stand and the capacity has been lowered to 5,000 during refurbishment of the South and East end new stands as part of the new Windsor Park development.

The kop has since been demolished after structural failures were seen after a game and so it now a three sided development which was complete by 2016 for the Northern Ireland v Rumania game.

Fax No: 028 3833 2726

Team Nickname: The Ports

Pitch Size: 110 x 60 yards

Year Ground Opened: 1924

Ground Guide

The main entrance to the ground on the corner of Brownstone Road boasts an impressive new brick facade with the club crest high above a gateway, replicating a feature of the old Shamrock Park and is about a mile from the town city centre.

The new Met stand on the east side of the ground, to the left is the new south stand which replaced a curved open terrace the stand has 1,000 seats beneath and takes up the width of the penalty area, and is raised slightly above pitch level.

Unusually the stand sits in a similar position as the former south terrace, leaving a gap of several metres behind the goal where the speedway circuit used to be. The curved line of the former terrace fencing has been repositioned behind the goal and looking to the far right from the main stand the shape of the old ground layout becomes more obvious, with the former speedway track now been covered over beneath the new training pitch which sits behind the goal.

Northern Ireland Football League

On the west side of the ground, the old main stand on the pitch centre line, with 1,000 seats on a raised seating deck. There are a number of columns to this stand which may impede your view.

Although the stand still maintains its distance from the pitch behind the former speedway track, the elevated seating deck ensures a good view of the action.

Ground Guide

The main developed area of the ground where the main entrance to the ground is situated with Tandragee Road itself being a quite narrow and busy road it's useful that there are two car parks situated at this side of the ground.

The main car park is used mostly by players and officials while on match days there is all-weather five a side pitch, which doubles as a car park. These two car parks are situated either side of the club house which has recently been extended and refurbished.

Northern Ireland Football League

The ground has a capacity of 1,200 with its main feature of the ground is the Met Steel stand which runs either side of the half way line and is the most popular vantage point for watching the game. It was built in 2003 in preparation for the club's elevation from Mid Ulster Intermediate football to the Northern Ireland League and is covered and laid out in concrete steps, in preparation for the addition of seating.

The stand can accommodate 200 people and there is additional covered standing area within the Joe England stand. This stand is a new addition to the ground having been added for the 2010-11 season. This stand is named after the club's Life Patron and provides disabled access and seating for wheelchair users and accompanying spectators.

Driving to the Ground

North and South

Take the M1 motorway to the M12 exit at junction 11. Follow the M12 until the end of the motorway and then turn left onto the Northway and stay on this road for approximately a mile and a half, turning left before the train station towards the town centre. Follow the one way system into the town centre onto Market Street and turn left onto Thomas Street and follow the road under the railway bridge for approximately half a mile and the football ground is on the left.

Ground Guide

The ground is located in Bangor's western suburbs with a training pitch to the south side of the ground. The west side of the ground has been enclosed in recent years by the building of a new housing estate with the club offices and two storey Social Club back onto Hawthorne Close on the North side, with the top floor of the Social Club overlooking the roof of the Main Stand.

The Main Stand consists of a smaller older part that sits roughly on the pitch centre and a newer extension running down towards the covered terrace at one end with the older part of the Main Stand has a pair of low and narrow dug outs in front of the four row deck of around 150 yellow plastic seats.

The new extension is also covered and mirrors the height and columns of the old Main Stand adding around 185 seats to the Social Club side of the ground. On the other side of the Main Stand towards the West End is a two floor Clubhouse and Media Centre which has a narrow enclosed viewing area slightly raised above pitch level.

The Clondeboye Road End Terrace which, being of the same height with the same blue cladding blends rather well with the Main Stand extension. The terrace owes its curved shape to the ground previously hosting stock car and go-kart racing. The pitch was enlarged after the race track

On the opposite side of the Main Stand is an open expanse of concrete, with two lines of shallow steps which would have originally contained two narrow stands parallel with the penalty areas. The stand towards the West End has long since disappeared however the stand at the East End backing onto the Clondeboye Road turnstiles does still exist, its rustic barrel roof covering four rows of around 160 seats, bolted to a plank of timber then placed on top of a number of breeze blocks.

Northern Ireland Football League

Turning finally to the West End of Clondeboye Park, then as far as we are aware this side has never had an area for supporters to stand and watch a game. Once the race track was removed a curved metal fence was installed to separate the ground from a new row of houses being built. Bangor football club sold this section of the ground to a property developer in order to clear club debts and in 2011 a high brick wall was built behind the goal to fully block off the ground

Driving to the Ground

North and South

Take the A2 from Belfast towards Bangor, passing Belfast City Airport and on nearing the centre of Bangor take the slip road signposted 'Ring Road, A2, A21 Newtownards'. At the top of the slip road there is a T-junction with traffic lights. Turn right at the lights towards Newtownards/Donaghadee. At the next traffic lights (there is Jollye's Pet Store on the left) turn left into Clondeboye Road. The football ground is down the bottom of this road on the left.

Public Transport

Train to Bangor Railway Station walk out of the main entrance past the bus station walk straight on at the roundabout walk along Abbey Street then at the cross roads with the church on your left take a left and walk down Newtownards Road then take first right into Church Street the road changes to Clondeboye Road and the ground is on the right this is a 800 yards walk to the ground.

Ground Guide

United are the most westerly of the current Premier League clubs and are the only County Fermanagh football club to be promoted to the top division. Ferney Park is located on the Enniskillen Road, five minutes south of the village centre and the ground; it is set in a rural location.

The ground has seen a lot of recent investment resulting in the club house side of the ground is new small covered seated stand. This low all seater cantilevered stand for home supporters was opened in 2010, though this stand has a concrete rather than a metal deck. It contains 205 seats over 4 rows with space and additional seats at one end for disabled supporters and their helpers and there new terracing either side of this stand.

Northern Ireland Football League

Opposite the stand are two small covered terraces have been constructed, one on each side of the half way line. Each runs for around a quarter of the length of the pitch but are situated towards each end, the stands have been built with low cantilever steelwork and contain four rows of terrace.

The two new stands have been named 'The Fisher Stand', in dedication to the late Tommy Fisher who was a club President and 'The Village Stand', in recognition of the funding from the Ballinamallard Enterprise Centre. This side of the ground is also complimented by a row of four of the grounds eight new modern floodlights poles, which alongside the creation of the walkways and standing areas were part of the first upgrade to meet Championship requirements.

Ground Guide

The ground is located around to the village of Drumahoe near Londonderry and in one corner of a large football and rugby field complex, and is shielded from the busy A6 Glenshane Road by a line of trees, with the River Faughan also bordering the ground.

Northern Ireland Football League

The main entrance is beside the large two storey YMCA building, from which the ground gets its name. A narrow driveway leads down one side of the YMCA Building and there is a drop of several feet onto the Football Club Car Park and playing fields.

In 1995-the YMCA Ground originally had flat standing areas on all four sides, surrounded by a wooden pitch side fence, no floodlights, with just a Clubhouse and portakabin facilities behind the goal at the YMCA Building End, plus a pair of dug outs on the riverside. Today and Institute FC have a ground to be proud of, with stands on all four sides and corner floodlights.

Looking to the far left the ground's original 1995 Clubhouse remains but its view of the pitch has now been blocked by the most recent addition to the ground-an impressive all seater stand, which has 800 blue seats over 6 rows beneath a column free cantilever roof, plus a first floor viewing balcony for disabled supporters, flanked by a stadium control box and space for future executive boxes.

Since the original Clubhouse is still used by players and officials the new stand incorporates a player's entrance, effectively spitting the seating deck into two parts. The space beneath the seating deck is also put to use, and houses the Club Shop. The new development is nearly twice the height of the remaining three sides of the ground, which all have a uniformed look.

At the opposite end of the pitch is the Billy Henderson Stand, which is a 6 step covered terrace with a single line crush barrier beneath a cantilever roof. This stand was built in two phases, with the toilet and refreshment facilities at the rear being added at a later date. The Riverside Stand is located on the pitch centre line and runs around half the length of the pitch.

The stand's has a colourful combination of around 370 seats and with the River Faughan nearby a line of netting is in place at the rear of the stand and to the sides to stop stray balls ending up in the water.

Northern Ireland Football League

The Away Supporters Stand, which is identical to the Riverside Stand on first glance but is however slightly shorter and has around 320 seats over four rows. As well as the obvious improvement in spectator accommodation the YMCA Grounds with a set of 20 lights per pylon.

Seaview is located two miles north of centre of Belfast located between the A2 Shore Road and the Belfast to Larne railway line. The stadium has seen some recent investment with new stands being constructed at each end and the St Vincents Street Terrace being made all seated.

The ground's mural that graces the corner of St Vincent Street as well as the all seated stand that takes up the space between the Shore Road touchline and the centre line. There are a number of columns which could impede your view but there is always good atmosphere going within the ground. The capacity of this stand is 1,100. Looking towards the Railway End, the club's two storey social club building and dressing rooms take up the space to the far touchline and opposite is the Main Stand, which sits on the centre line on by far the narrowest of the four sides of the ground.

Northern Ireland Football League

The steep concrete based cantilever stand, built in the late 1970's was re-fitted in 2010 with new red seats. Both behind goal ends are virtually identical small all seated covered stands that were opened in 2011. Both have a capacity of 630 seats. The stadium is completed with a set of four modern floodlights.

Stadium Telephone No: 028 9145 7712

Team Nickname: The Blues

Year Ground Opened: 1935

Pitch Size: 105 x 72 yards

Ground Guide

The ground is located in Bangor's western suburbs with a training pitch to the south side of the ground. The west side of the ground has been enclosed in recent years by the building of a new housing estate with the club offices and two storey Social Club back onto Hawthorne Close on the North side, with the top floor of the Social Club overlooking the roof of the Main Stand.

The Main Stand consists of a smaller older part that sits roughly on the pitch centre and a newer extension running down towards the covered terrace at one end with the older part of the Main Stand has a pair of low and narrow dug outs in front of the four row deck of around 150 seats.

Northern Ireland Football League

The new extension is also covered and mirrors the height and columns of the old Main Stand adding around 185 seats to the Social Club side of the ground. On the other side of the Main Stand towards the West End has a two floor Clubhouse and Media Centre which has a narrow enclosed viewing area slightly raised above pitch level?

The Clandeboye Road End Terrace which, being of the same height with the same blue cladding blends rather well with the Main Stand extension. The terrace owes its oval shape to the ground previously hosting stock car and go-kart racing and the pitch was enlarged after the race track was removed.

The sturdy low cover has a number of columns along its front edge and lacks any crush barriers but nevertheless it's a fair elevated view of the pitch from the top of the curved concrete steps. On the opposite side of the Main Stand is an open expanse of concrete, with two lines of shallow steps which would have originally contained two narrow stands parallel with the penalty areas. The stand towards the West End has long since disappeared however the stand at the East End backing onto the Clandeboye Road turnstiles does still exist, its rustic barrel roof covering four rows of around 160 seats, and the seat bolted to a plank of timber then placed on top of a number of breeze blocks.

Turning finally to the West End of Clondeboye Park, then as far as we are aware this side has never had an area for supporters to stand and watch a game. Once the race track was removed a curved metal fence was installed to separate the ground from a new row of houses being built. Bangor football club sold this section of the ground to a property developer in order to clear club debts and in 2011 a high brick wall was built behind the goal to fully block off the ground

Driving to the Ground

North and South

Take the A2 from Belfast towards Bangor, passing Belfast City Airport and on nearing the centre of Bangor take the slip road sign posted 'Ring Road, A2, A21 Newtownards'. Fax No: 028 9030 1148

Pitch Size: 110 x 72 yards

Year Ground Opened: 1980

Club Nickname: Whites

Ground Guide

The club was originally based in Belfast at Grosvenor Park and were there from 1880 to 1981 before selling their old ground then shared with other Belfast clubs before moving out to a the new ground in 1980. They moved the eight miles to New Grosvenor Stadium is located on the Ballyskeagh Road, Lambeg which lies on the outskirts of the city of Lisburn, which doubles up at night to become Drumbo Park for greyhound racing.

It is located in a rural setting on the edge of the village Ballyskeagh and the ground is entered by a long narrow driveway which leads out onto the car park, football club social building and offices on the west side of the ground and its oval shape to greyhound racing.

Northern Ireland Football League

On the east side of the ground two stands occupy the space either side of the pitch centre line, and the stand has a shallow seating deck for around 1,500 spectators, with a tall glazed viewing lounge at the rear but however this stand is not used for football matches but only for greyhound meetings and to the right of this structure is a narrow covered terrace with a number of columns along its front.

Looking behind both goals at the north and south end the curved boundary behind both goals the standing areas are flat and offer only a distant view, the west side of the ground, this side also has two structures sitting either side of the pitch centre line. Looking to the left the narrow Morton McKnight stand was opened in 1981 and has around 1,000 seats and the seating deck sits beneath a low roof with glazed screen ends. Although there is greyhound lighting poles around the perimeter on the west side, the stand is steep enough to offer an unobstructed view over the top.

There is a small club museum and club shop is situated in the main building block. The museum is small but also free to enter and contains interesting items of the club's history.

Northern Ireland Football League

This room also doubles up as the club shop selling a small range of club items such as hats, badges and jackets.

Ground Guide

The ground has improved considerably in the last few years, with two new stands and spectator facilities. Because the ground sits on the side of a hill the social club and ground floor of the clubhouse sit lower than the pitch, the two storey clubhouse leads out to the ground car park.

The ground has two prefabricated stands flanking the players entrance are of identical design, and have 75 seats each. To the right is a long, low cover over a flat standing area leading to the Suffolk Road touchline.

To the left is the largest structure at the ground, the new home stand which has 568 seats over 12 rows, beneath a deep cantilever roof. Looking beyond this stand to the far left is the Glen Forest End and this area has been improved in the last few years and now has a flat area of concrete should spectators wish to stand behind the goal, tall netting prevents stray balls from falling into the river that flows immediately behind the goal.

Across the pitch from the new home stand is the new away stand on the away supporters side of the ground and this was originally two pitch length steps of concrete behind a caged fence but now away supporters have their own stand with 315 seats on 5 rows, with a wide area at the rear for food and drink, and toilet facilities with the original concrete steps remain on the rest of this side of the ground, this leads back to the away turnstile at the Suffolk Road end.

At the Suffolk Road end, this area is a grass verge with a narrow strip of concrete, with the fences now removed anybody viewing the game from this side has a much improved view, a new stadium control tower sits in one corner leading back to the home side.

Driving to the Ground

From the North

Main Telephone No: To be advised

Pitch Size: 100x80

Year Ground Opened: 1980

Team Nickname: DC, The Wee Hoops or Belfast Hoops

Ground Guide

The ground has improved considerably in the last few years, with two new stands and spectator facilities. Because the ground sits on the side of a hill the social club and ground floor of the clubhouse sit lower than the pitch, the two storeys clubhouse leads out to the ground car park.

Northern Ireland Football League

The ground has two prefabricated stands flanking the players entrance are of identical design, and have 75 seats each. To the right is a long, low cover over a flat standing area leading to the Suffolk Road touchline.

To the left is the largest structure at the ground, the new home stand which has 568 seats over 12 rows, beneath a deep cantilever roof. Looking beyond this stand to the far left is the Glen Forest End and this area has been improved in the last few years and now has a flat area of concrete should spectators wish to stand behind the goal, tall netting prevents stray balls from falling into the river that flows immediately behind the goal.

Across the pitch from the new home stand is the new away stand on the away supporters side of the ground and this was originally two pitch length steps of concrete behind a caged fence but now away supporters have their own stand with 315 seats on 5 rows, with a wide area at the rear for food and drink, and toilet facilities with the original concrete steps remain on the rest of this side of the ground, this leads back to the away turnstile at the Suffolk Road end.

At the Suffolk Road end, this area is a grass verge with a narrow strip of concrete, with the fences now removed anybody viewing the game from this side has a much improved view, a new stadium control tower sits in one corner leading back to the home side.

Ground Guide

Northern Ireland Football League

The main developed area of the ground where the main entrance to the ground is situated with Tandragee Road itself being a quite narrow and busy road it's useful that there are two car parks situated at this side of the ground.

The main car park is used mostly by players and officials while on match days there is all-weather five a side pitch, which doubles as a car park. These two car parks are situated either side of the club house which has recently been extended and refurbished.

The ground has a capacity of 1,200 with its main feature of the ground is the Met Steel stand which runs either side of the half way line and is the most popular vantage point for watching the game. It was built in 2003 in preparation for the club's elevation from Mid Ulster Intermediate football to the Northern Ireland League and is covered and laid out in concrete steps, in preparation for the addition of seating.

The stand can accommodate 200 people and there is additional covered standing area within the Joe England stand. This stand is a new addition to the ground having been added for the 2010-11 season. This stand is named after the club's Life Patron and provides disabled access and seating for wheelchair users and accompanying spectators.

Driving to the Ground
