Ground Guide

The ground is a classic oval shape, with a cinder track surrounding the playing area (which is used by the Berwick Bandits Speedway Team during the summer). Both ends are small open terraces, whilst on one side is the Main Stand.

Non-League Football Scotland

Main Stand

This small all seated stand is covered, but has a row of floodlights running across the front of the stand, and has a capacity of 1,366, opposite is another mostly open terrace but there is a small covered area, known as the 'Ducket Enclosure' which straddles the half way line.

Driving Directions

From The North:

From the A1 around Berwick and continue crossing the River Tweed. Then take the left turn signposted Spittal B6354. After about just under a mile, you will reach the entrance to the ground on your left which is signposted on the right.

From The South:

From the A1, take the left turn towards Spittal B6354 and follow the directions above and there is plenty of free car parking available at the ground.

Public Transport/Walking

Train to Berwick up Tweed Railway Station then walk out on to Castlegate and take the B6 Perrymans Buses going to Galashiels, 18 Alexander & Sons and 32 Travelsure get off at Etal Road from there it's a two minute walk then cross over the road and turn right into Shielfield Terrace the ground is down the lane three minutes away.

Admission

£10 for adults all others £5

Where to Drink

There is the Black & Gold pub adjacent to the ground which is popular with both home and away fans. Otherwise, coming into the ground by car on the B6354 (see directions) you will pass the Grove which is always popular with both sets of supporters.

If you are walking from the Railway Station you will pass several pubs most of which are not too bad, however, once you cross the River Tweed into Tweedmouth you will come upon the Angel Inn on your left and after the Match many go to "Barrels Alehouse" which is a well-known pub situated at the Berwick end of the Old Bridge' and there is also the Bonarsteads Bar on Northumberland Road, which also welcomes anybody.

Ground Guide

New Dundas Park is located in the centre of the town and over the decades has gradually been penned in by housing developments requiring additional land around the ground. This means housing borders the complex on all four sides with only a small parcel of land beyond the northern side for a car park and social club with New Dundas Park has been home to the club since 1953.

Main Covered Stand

The entrance to the ground is down a lane of Dundas Street on its northern side which is the main side of the venue. This flank has terracing split into three sections with a nine level covered concrete terrace towards the western end, an uncovered four level concrete terrace in the middle and a seven level uncovered concrete terrace towards the eastern end. Behind the latter are the club buildings which include the dressing rooms and a snack bar for spectators.

Non-League Football Scotland

East Side & Orchard Side

The southern side has no stands but does have a grass bank which, due to the natural slope of the arena, steepens as you work your way to the western end. Unusually, the club have taken advantage of this by installing metal barriers in the grass in the same way as you would normally find in a concrete terrace. In the middle of this side are two dugouts at the bottom of the grass bank meaning that spectators can stand behind these without their views being hindered and the areas behind the two goals are more restrained than the two sides. The eastern goal has a small, but steep, grass bank with an uneven four level concrete terrace built into the northern half of this end. Meanwhile at the other goal there is a grass section which slopes up towards the northern end and a covered four level concrete terrace in the Orchard End north-west corner with netting running the length of this side to prevent balls landing in the gardens of adjacent houses.

Ground Guide

The Falkirk Stadium as it was named, originally comprised just one stand, but since then two further stands have been built. The West Stand at one side of the pitch is a huge cantilever affair that houses 4,200 supporters.

It is two tiered, with a large lower tier and a small upper tier with comparatively small windshields to either side. At one end is the North Stand, which was opened in March 2005. It is a covered all seated stand that has a capacity of 2,000. Opposite opened in 2009 is the near identical looking South Stand that also has a capacity of 2,000. The East Side of the stadium is open and unused for spectators, which rather detracts from the overall appearance of the ground and in 2013 the grass pitch was replaced by an artificial surface.

Non-League Football Scotland

The nearest pub is the Mill Inn on Thornhill Road, which is around a five minute walk way, going towards the town centre, Tam Bain in Mary Street, Laurieston, which is 10 minutes north of the stadium' Pennies at the old ice rink, just off the Grangemouth Road and the pub is just down the right hand side of the old ice rink, near to the Saturday market next to the Sports Centre.

Otherwise 'I would recommend the 'Behind the Wall' bar in the town centre, for a drink before the game and it has won supporters awards in the past and is located in the centre of Falkirk, close to Falkirk Grahamston station.

Driving Directions

Non-League Football Scotland

Take the M9 to Junction 6 from the North and West and then turn right onto Glensburgh Road and at the roundabout take the third exit onto Falkirk Road and then at the next roundabout turn left and the next turn left to the ground.

From the south and East take Junction 5 and at the roundabout take the first exit onto Clansable Road and at the second roundabout take the second exit onto the A9 and at the next take the third exit to the ground where there is plenty of parking all around the ground

Public Transport/Walking

Train to Falkirk Grahamston Railway Station then walk up the path to the rail bridge and then turn right cross the road at the roundabout and walk up to the bus stop take the first Edinburgh 3, 4 and 4a bus to the bus stop after the roundabout on the Grangemouth Road the ground is in on the right cross the road and walk up the path that's of you that's if you don't want to walk the mile to the ground.

If walking then walk up to the main road at the bridge then take a left and walk do to the Edge and Railway Tavern pubs from Glasgow walk through the car park to the cottages and walk out on to the main road then turn left down to the Railway and Edge pubs walk down to the roundabout then take a right follow the road round as if going to the old East Stirlingshire ground and come out on Thornhill Road then take a right and walk up to the end of the road at William Hills take a left down the hill in Grangemouth Road keep on walking till you get to the roundabout then take a right the ground is on the left

Ground Guide

The club moved from Annfield Park which they sold for housing which had been their ground since their formation in 1945 after Kings Park had dissolved and moved back to the old Kings Park Forthbank ground which had been Kings Park from 1915 – 1945 and was derelict, the stadium comprises two seated stands, on either side of the pitch and a small terrace at either end.

Main Stand

The largest of these stands is the West Stand, which is a covered, single tier, all seated stand that has some executive boxes running across the back of it. Opposite is the similar looking East Stand, which is smaller than the West Stand, not so much in height but in its overall length.

Non-League Football Scotland

North Terrace

This is also covered, all seated and has Police Control Box situated at its rear. Away fans are allocated this stand. The terraces at each end of the stadium are almost identical and they are small and uncovered box like affairs, which are situated well back from the pitch and these terraces are only opened for the bigger games and looking out beyond the North Terrace there are some wonderful views of the surrounding countryside and Ochil hills.

At the stadium itself there is 'Binos Bar' which operates in one of the hospitality suites in the Main Stand and away fans are welcomed, however for high profile games then it may not do so?

Otherwise as the stadium is 10 minutes from the centre of town(if you use the short cut), there is one pub called the Kerse Inn on the nearby Retail Park, which you will pass on your right as you drive down to the stadium or drink in the city centre where there are plenty of bars

Driving Directions

Leave the M80 at Junction 9 and from the East Junction 6 M9 take the A91 towards Bannockburn. At the fourth roundabout take the second exit into Springkerse and then at the next take the second exit and the ground is just down this road on the left. There is a large car park at the ground which is free.

Public Transport/Walking

This is the land used by Kings Park between 1890 and 1904 before moving to their new ground beside the railway station, today its Players Road, the club had played in the Scottish Football League club up to 1945 when they failed to come out for the 1945/46 season having been bombed out of existence and Stirling Albion took over their mantle, who played at Annfield (Annfield Estates Park) till 1993 before moving back down the hill to Forthbank Park as one old Parkies fan said it was like coming home. The train to Stirling Station then walk on to the footbridge and take a left at the end walk down the steps take a left on to Forthside Way and follow this round to the ground.

Where to Drink

The nearest pub is the Mill Inn on Thornhill Road, which is around a five minute walk way, going towards the town centre, Tam Bain in Mary Street, Laurieston, which is 10 minutes north of the stadium' Pennies at the old ice rink, just off the Grangemouth Road and the pub is just down the right hand side of the old ice rink, near to the Saturday market next to the Sports Centre.

Otherwise 'I would recommend the 'Behind the Wall' bar in the town centre, for a drink before the game and it has won supporters awards in the past and is located in the centre of Falkirk, close to Falkirk Grahamston station.

Ground Guide

Palmerston Park has been used since 1876 when it was home of Queen of the South Wanderers 1876 – 1893 and was taken over by the 5th KRV it has a 8,690 capacity, there are 3,377 seats and up until the late 1990s the stadium had a capacity of 8,352, but this was reduced when the Terregles Street End terracing was closed and it was given a safety certificate in September 2014, adding standing capacity of 1,968.

Main Stand and Terregles End

There are 2,192 seats in the all seated East Stand. This stand was under sponsorship for the 2012–13 and was known as the Galloway News Stand. Since the 2013–14 the stand has been known as the Rosefield Salvage Stand under new sponsorship.

East Stand

Non-League Football Scotland

Opposite this is the main stand, built in 1965, which now has 1,185 seats. The main stand is a small, classic looking covered stand, where the seating area is raised. There are standing terraces for fans to the left and in front of this stand. Since the 2013–14 the main stand has been under sponsorship and is known as the Gates Power Stand.

The Portland Drive Terrace, with a capacity of 3,345 is a traditional standing area and is now the largest area of covered terracing in Scotland and the terrace is notable for the clock face mounted in the centre of the roof that used to be an advert for a local hostelry, where 'Time to Visit The Hole I' The Wa' was written underneath the clock and for the 2015–16 the terrace is under sponsorship and is known as the Oakbank Services Terrace.
